

“money is nothing more than a tool. it can be a force for good, a force for evil, or simply be idle.”

-The Gift of Money

Today, as you celebrate how your efforts through the Weekend Of Giving have helped to support your cause, make it a point to explore the Gift Of Money with your family using these three conversation starter cards provided by Once Upon A Family®. They'll help you work together to share and shape your ideas on what's truly valuable to each of you. And, enrich the conversation by also discussing other acts of giving you plan to do as a family in the months ahead.
